Situated in a popular location, this three bedroom mid terrace house offers spacious accommodation throughout and is presented to the market with no upper chain. With double glazing and an enclosed front and rear garden, the property is an appealing opportunity for buyers looking for a home with both indoor and outdoor space. The generous accommodation provides a welcoming setting for everyday life, The layout offers flexibility for a range of lifestyles, whether you are looking for a home to share, space for family life or room to accommodate visiting guests. Upstairs, the three bedrooms provide options for sleeping, working from home or creating a space suited to your individual needs. Each room offers the opportunity to add your own furnishings and personal touches, helping you create a home that reflects your style. The bathroom serves the bedrooms and completes the accommodation. Throughout the property, the spacious feel is a feature, offering buyers the chance to enjoy a home with room to settle in and adapt over time. The mid terrace setting and popular location add to the appeal, while the absence of an upper chain makes this an attractive prospect for those keen to move forward with their purchase.

To the rear, an enclosed garden provides a private outdoor space to enjoy alongside the accommodation inside. Fence boundaries define the garden, creating a setting that can be arranged to suit your preferences. There is scope to make the space your own, whether you envisage a place to sit and relax, an area for outdoor dining or a garden filled with your choice of plants. There is also a garage in a block to the rear offering a place to park your car or add extra storage. Contact the estate agency to arrange a viewing or request further information and discover the potential this property has to offer.
